Dorothy E. 'Dot' McCalpin Memorial Scholarship

My mother passed away in the summer of 2011, after a long and loving life of service to others. When you read her history on page 5, you will no doubt be incredulous that anyone could have done all those things in one lifetime. Well, it's important to remember that she had 86 and a half years to do it...but it's even more important to remember that everyone has to start somewhere.

If you are reading this application, you have started somewhere, by volunteering at the Richardson Public Library. My mother loved the Library and education, and together with my father raised six kids with 12 university degrees between them. She contributed to the Library in the same way that she contributed to everything, by donating her time and limitless energy. In the case of the Library, she was the president of the Friends of the Library and worked on projects such as the InPerson Series that brought in nationally known speakers here to our home town, Richardson, Texas.

In gratitude for her service to the FOL, to the Library, and to the City, the Friends of the Richardson Public Library are delighted to sponsor two scholarships in Dot McCalpin's name to two young, college-bound women or men who exemplify the love of learning and absolute dedication to the service of City and community.

Each of you who volunteer at the Library deserve our thanks, and it is my sincere hope that years from now, you will look back and realize that your journey, too, began with a single step, that first volunteer job. I hope that the example of Dot McCalpin makes you appreciate how much good you can do.

General Scholarship Information

The Friends of the Richardson Public Library

Mission

The mission of the Friends of the Richardson Public Library is to support the Library and to enrich the cultural opportunities available to library users.

Summary

The Friends of the Richardson Library is a 501(c)(3) non-profit entity and a proud member of ALA/ALTAFF (American Library Association / Association of Library Trustees, Advocates, Friends and Foundations).

The Friends were organized in 1986 and, for 20 years, focused most of its efforts on presenting the InPerson author series. When the series was discontinued, a strategic planning meeting was held and a new mission statement was drafted: to support the Library and to enrich the cultural opportunities available to library users. The InPerson series was resurrected in 2013 to showcase Texas authors.

A popular program is the Spring and Fall Book Sales, where patrons have the opportunity to buy books of all types at a reasonable cost.

The Friends participate in the literary life of the city in many other ways. They purchase book bags for the BookBabble Discussion Group and annually support Richardson Reads One Book.

The Friends also support library staff. In March there is a staff appreciation luncheon given and in December, a Christmas dessert party.

In addition, the Friends support the community with sponsorship of the annual Santa's Village in Richardson and providing volunteers at Wildflower Festival.

The Friends group is dedicated to helping the Library fund activities that are not in the Library's annual budget.

Dorothy E. 'Dot' McCalpin

To say that Dorothy Edna Schulte McCalpin – “Dot” to all – was a driving force in the City of Richardson for the last 45 years would be an understatement. Dot was born December 20, 1924, in St. Louis, Missouri, to William Bernard Schulte and Edna M. McBride, and married sweetheart George Ambrose McCalpin after a minor delay caused by George's nearly three year service in the U.S. Army in World War II. While her future husband was away at war, Dot attended Webster College of St. Louis University and graduated with a B.A. in English in May, 1947.

Dot was not born in Texas, but as they say, she got here as fast as she could. Dot and George married in 1948, moved to Texas, and after brief stays elsewhere, ended up in Beaumont, Texas, where, over the next 17 years, all six of their children would be born.

In 1965, husband George, a geophysicist, was transferred to the Sun Oil laboratory in Richardson, Texas, and Dot brought the six children to the new home that she and George built in the Canyon Creek section of the City, where they lived together for the next 45 years.

Dot was mother, teacher, photographer, City volunteer, and community leader.

Dot raised six children with her husband of 63 years. Their children have earned among them six Bachelor's degrees, four Master's degrees, and two doctorates, reflecting Dot and George's own university educations and high goals for their children. In addition to raising her children, Dot also volunteered as a Girl Scout leader, Camp Fire leader, Den Mother, and PTA President. Dot taught literally hundreds of Richardson children swimming and Life Saving skills both in her backyard and in pools in Richardson. And somehow she found the time to learn and teach speech therapy to help one of her children born with a speech defect to speak normally.

After her children started to leave home to lead lives of their own, Dot threw herself into a second career of photography. A complete amateur at first, Dot began taking course after course wherever offered, even as far away as Pennsylvania, to develop her skills. Finally, husband George suggested that she turn professional to help pay for her "hobby", and, as in all things, Dot gave it 110%. She became an award-winning professional photographer and 20+ year member of the Professional Photographers of America. She served as president of the Dallas Professional Photographers of America and was a member of the Texas Professional Photographers of America. In addition to decades of wedding and family portrait photography, Dot has taken hundreds of "official" portraits around the City, such as of the Richardson City Council members, the members of the Richardson Women's Club, the Board of the local hospital, and the class photos for Leadership Richardson.

But such efforts hardly begin to describe the contributions that Dot McCalpin freely gave to the City of Richardson and the community. Perhaps inspired by an ancestor who ran for office in Missouri during the American Civil War, Dot firmly believed that good citizens actively participate in public life. To that end, Dot served on and was chair of the Richardson Parks and Recreation Commission, served on and was chair of the Zoning Board of Adjustment, was on the steering committee and advisory board member for the Wildflower festival, was the founder of the Great Fountain Festival, was a member of the committee that built the fountain and brick memorial wall at City Hall, suggested the use of the native pecan tree next to the Library to be decorated as the Christmas tree at Santa's Village, attended Leadership Richardson (Class V), and attended both the Richardson Citizens Police Academy and Fire Academy.

And in the area of community service Dot McCalpin shone. In addition to being wife, mother, teacher, photographer, and City volunteer, Dot was a community volunteer without equal. Over thirty years, Dot amassed an incredible record of service, at one point or another being the president of every community club in Richardson that allowed women members. Dot served in the following community and civic organizations:

- Altrusa, committee chair
- Cadence Dance Club, president
- Canyon Creek Homeowners Garden Tour, chair
- Dallas Geological & Geophysical Auxiliary, president
- Dallas Geological & Geophysical Auxiliary, program chair (multiple times)
- Dallas Professional Photographers Association, president
- Family Outreach of America, officer
- Family Outreach of Greater Dallas, president
- Family Outreach of Richardson/Plano, president
- Friends of the Richardson Library, president
- HASR (Helping Agencies Serving Richardson), founder
- Heard Museum in McKinney, secretary and vice-president
- Junior League of Dallas, sustaining member
- Junior League of Richardson, advisory board
- Leadership Richardson Alumni Association 20th Anniversary Committee
- Leadership Richardson, advisory board
- Neighborhood Youth Services, board member and officer
- Network of Community Ministries, board member and officer
- Richardson Adult Literacy Center, advisory board
- Richardson Chamber of Commerce, advisory board
- Richardson East Rotary, president (and where she was the first woman member)
- Richardson Regional Medical Center, women's advisory board
- Richardson Republican Women's Club, president
- Richardson Symphony Orchestra, board member
- Richardson Women's Club, president

- St. Mark the Evangelist Catholic Church, founding member and building committee,
- Texas Coalition for the Prevention of Child Abuse, officer
- YMCA, board chairman
- YMCA, co-chair of $250,000 capital renovation campaign;
- Youth Services Council, director

Because of the countless contributions made by Dot to Richardson, the Richardson Chamber of Commerce proclaimed her “Citizen of the Year” in 1990, and the Mayor of the City of Richardson proclaimed her 80th birthday, Dec 20, 2004, to be “Dot McCalpin Day”.
